"GIVE ear to my words, O Lord! consider my meditation. Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King and my Lord! for unto THEE will I pray."—Ps. V, 1. 2.

PREFACE.

THIS small but excellent book of Prayers, originally written in the German language, has had an extensive circulation among the German part of our citizens, as well as among the countrymen of its truly worthy author; a number of editions in the German language have found a ready sale, and frequent enquiries have been made for it in the English language by those who have made use of it, and have tested its excellency, which has induced the publisher to have it translated.-The translation is not indeed a literal one, but whilst the translator has availed himself of the liberty of expressing himself freely, yet in no instance has he departed from the sense and spirit of the author's devotions.

PREFACE.

The Prayers are in a great measure composed of Scripture passages, interspersed and connected with the devotional feelings of its author they breathe a spirit of true heartfelt piety, and are an evidence that the author was indeed a man of God.

PRAYERS.

Prayer before we enter the house of God.

ALMIGHTY GOD! Heavenly Parent, in reliance upon thine abundant mercy, I will enter thy earthly sanctuary, and worship toward thy holy temple in thy fear. Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, make thy way straight before my face-make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for thou art my Lord and the God of my salvation. Thy dwelling is my delight, and my soul longeth after the assemblies of thy saints, who praise and adore thy name. How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord. O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker; for he is our God, and we the people of his pasture and the sheep of his fold. Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worship at his footstool, for he is holy. My prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time; O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation. Amen.

PRAYER.

For Sunday Morning.

LORD, our Heavenly Father, Eternal God, blessed be thine almighty power, adored thine infinite goodness, and praised thine eternal wisdom and truth, that in the dangers of the night which has just passed, thine arm was stretched out for my protection, that thou hast permitted me to rest my weary limbs secure and safe under the shadow of thy wings-that thou hast preserved me from the evil one and from his evil machinations, and that thy fatherly care has been manifested towards me. Therefore I praise thee for thy mercy and thy wondrous works towards the children of men, I will praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly of the upright, [Ps. 3, 1.] and in the congregation, his praise shall continually be in my mouth, [Ps. 34, 1.] -my soul shall bless the Lord at all times and all that is within me thy holy name; let me never forget thy mercies and the multitude of thy favours-let the praise-offering of my lips, which I bring unto thee in the morning, in the simplicity of soul, prove an acceptable offering in thy sight - I pray thee to be with me this day, preserve me from every danger, ward off every thing which may prove injurious to my body and hurtful to my soul; give thy holy angels charge concerning me, that they guard me in all my ways, surround me with thy defence, and make me to go in the path of thy com-mandments, that I may walk without blemish in thy service, as the children of light, to thy honour and glory .-- Preserve me from the evil one, and the seduction, temptations and snares of the world; subdue my passions, that I may not be overcome by them, and sin against thee, O God, and thus by my sins provoke thee to anger - Lead and direct me by thy holy spirit, that I may undertake, perform, speak or think nothing, except that which is pleasing in thy sight, and tends to the honour of thy glorious Majesty. Behold Lord I give myself up to thee entirely, this day, as thine own; all my powers and faculties both of body and soul, I would submit to the direction of thy will, and com-

Enable me to present my body a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, that I may render unto thee a reasonable and acceptable service; therefore, O Holy Father, Almighty God, let me be thine own, direct my heart, spirit and thoughts in such a manner, that I may know, understand, and love nothing as much as thee. [Ps. 5,3.] My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord-in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up, early will I call upon thee, and my praise shall not cease in the night, through Jesus Christ. Amen.

PRAYER

For Sunday Evening.

ETERNAL GOD! most merciful Father! let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the Evening Sacrifice, [Ps. 141, 2.] whilst I most heartily praise and thank thee, that thou hast preserved me this day and all the days of my life from evil and calamity-that thy angels have been made to watch over me, and that I have been preserved from the enemy of souls; I pray thee pardon all my sins, forgive what I have done amiss, and do thou this night further surround me with the guard of thy holy angels-may they prove as a bulwork and defence around my bed, that I may escape the devices and temptations of the devil. In kindness and tender mercy behold me the creature of thy hand-Save me with thine outstretched arm, for with my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea with my spirit within me, will I seek thee early, [Isa. 26, 9.]—I long after thy mercy and my soul trusteth in thee, the Living God; thou art my refuge in times of deep distress, and a faithful Saviour. Behold Lord whether we sleep or watch, we are thine-whether we live or die thou art our God; therefore cry I unto thee, let thy Grace ever be nigh; surround me with the defence of thy power, and grant that I may rest secure, enjoy a quiet sleep, and in the morning awake in health and renewed strength. In the time of trouble hide me in thy pavilion, in the secret of thy tabernacle hide thou me-Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice, and I shall fear no evil, though I walk through the valley and shadow of death I will fear no evil; for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff comfort me-Grant, Lord, thy grace, that my body may repose sweetly in sleep, but that my soul may ever be found watchful, and that thou mayest continually be the desire of my heart. May I ever be enabled so to keep thee in remembrance, that the night of sin may not overtake me-Keep me from sinful and abominable dreamings, deliver me from restless watchfulness, from over - anxious cares, from evil and wicked thoughts, and from every harm. Behold, my Lord and my God, to thy gracious keeping I commend myself according to body and soul, as well as my dear family, and all who are united to me by their ties of relationship and friendship. May it please thee to deliver us: Remove not from us thy tender mercy-let thy loving kindness and truth encompass us; O clothe us this night with thy goodness, surround us on every side with thy grace, and may we rest upon thy loving kindness, that our bodies may be secure from harm and our souls experience no evil.

PRAYER FOR MONDAY MORNING. 15

PRAYER

For Monday Morning.

O Thou Immortal, merciful God, as thou didst in the law command thine ancient people to bring a sacrifice of praise unto thee every morning, for thy preserving care and goodness, so likewise I esteem it my duty to bring my morning sacrifice daily unto thee and praise thy holy Name, that through the exceeding riches of thy grace and mercy, I have been preserved this night from all evil and harm, both of body and soul, and especially from the assaults of the great enemy. If thou hadst not been my shield and defence, innumerable evils would have surrounded and danger have overcome me, that I could not have left my bed and risen in health -Therefore doth it become me to praise my God. Early do I seek thee, and in the morning shall my prayer ascend unto thee, that thou wouldst this day preserve me and all mine, from the devices and power of the devil, from sin and shame, and from all evil—in this morning hour may thy grace be abundantly bestowed upon me, for without thee I shall not be able to do any thing in a manner acceptable unto thee : on this day enable me to begin and end all my undertakings in thy name, and as it becomes thy children; may all that I do tend to thy honor and glory, and to the welfare of my fellow-men.

Preserve my soul together with all its powers and faculties, my understanding and reason unto me O Lord, that I may ever guard against the deceitfulness of the great adversary of souls—Protect me from the destruction that wasteth at noon day— Defend me from all open and avowed as well as from all secret enemies, that with all their cunning, their plans and their contrivances, with all their power and rage, exerted pubPRAYER FOR MONDAY MORNING. 17 licly or privately, they shall not injure nor destroy me.

O Lord, Father and God of my life, give me not a proud look, but turn away from thy servants always a haughty mind. Turn away from me vain hopes and concupiscence-Let not the greediness of the belly nor lust of the flesh take hold of me; and give not over thy servant unto an impudent mind: through thy assistance I will pluck out and cast from me the eye that would offend me by a renunciation of all sinful desires of the heart. Take away from me every thing which is displeasing unto thee and hurtful to myself; and bestow that which is pleasing in thy sight, and which will burthen my happiness, so that with a believing heart I may serve thee. Look down upon me, thou Saviour of the world, with an eye of pity and compassion, enlighten mine eyes that I may see, and my heart that I may understand, so that I may walk by the brightness of thy light which enlightens me, and may I never loose thee, The Great Eternal Light. Amen.

PRAYER

For Monday Evening.

O thou powerful and everlasting God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, I would tender unto thee my heartfelt acknowledgments of gratitude, that through thy divine protection, this day has been spent free from all danger and harm, that no destructive fires, nor deluging waters have been heard of nor come nigh me; that ravenous beasts of prey have not torn me to pieces; that I have not fallen by the edge of the sword; that my enemies have not overcome me; that neither thieves nor robbers have not broken in upon me, and that no accident has injured me, or brought me nigh unto death,

In short, that I have not come into perils and dangers, threatening both body and soul, I have to attribute to thy mercy, for thou hast preserved me in all my ways; I beseech thee now furthermore pardon all the sins I have committed against thee in former times, and take me and all those who are near and dear unto me into thy keeping, this night and through the remainder of our pilgrimage here below; in mercy preserve us from all fear and distress, from the delusions and craftiness of the devil, wherewith he endeavors to subdue us, both by day and by night -preserve us from the pestilence that walketh in darkness, and from the snares of the enemy: deliver us from the net and the snares laid to entrap our souls. Let not the temptations of the evil one be greater than our strength, but rescue us, O Lord, from every danger which may threaten either body or soul; for thou Lord art my rock and my fortress and my deliverer: My God, my strength, in thee will I trust, my buckler and the horn of my salvation and my high tower. [Ps. 18, 3.] Therefore thou ever faithful God, let thy waking eyes be upon me, and prove thou my defence from the power and attacks of the greatenemy; be our watch and guard, surround us with thy protection as with a wall, that nothing can harm us, for in thee alone is our salvation-to thee do I raise mine eyes, from thee alone cometh our help. Our help cometh from the Lord who hath created heaven and earth. Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress, so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until that he have mercy upon us: Have mercy upon us, O Lord have mercy upon us, for we are exceedingly filled with contempt. For Tuesday Morning.

BLESSED be God, the creator of heaven and earth! Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things. And blessed be his glorious name forever! who hath created the day and the night, and divided the light and the darkness, and who hath ordained that as long as time shall be and the earth stand, they shall not cease; in order that mankind may rest in the hours of silent darkness and return by morning light to their daily avocations. I beseech thee, preserve my soul this day as it were in the hollow of thy hand and keep my body in health and safety, secure from the multiplied calamities which surround me. Be thou unto me a mighty protection and a strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling and a help from falling, [Sir. 34, 16.] that no calamity overtake me. O merciful God, grant that as knowing the time, that now it is high time to arise out of the sleep of sin and unrighteousness, for now our salvation is nearer than when we believed, and since the night is Waken me O Lord in the morning, and incline my ear to hear thy word, that I may receive the same in faith and treasure it up in my heart - and complying with its directions, listen to the cries and supply the wants of the poor and distressed; and when again in days of distress I call upon thee, O lend a listening ear to the voice of my supplications, and despise not the prayer of my soul when death draws nigh. Early shall my prayer come before thee, incline thine ear to my cries, and in the morning fill us with thy grace, then shall we delight 24 PRAYER FOR TUESDAY EVENING. and rejoice in thee all our days.— Amen.

PRAYER

For Tuesday Evening.

MERCIFUL GOD, Holy Father, in the day time I cry unto thee with my voice - When fear taketh hold on me, I call upon thee, and in the evening will I remember thy goodness and truth, which thou hast shown unto me; especially_would I praise thee at this time, that out of thy free and unmerited grace and goodness, without any merit or worthiness on my part, thou hast made me to dwell in safety this day which now is past, and preserved me from innumerable dangers which might have overtaken me; that thy fatherly care has so watched over me, that the evil one has not had power over my life, that no storms have overtaken me, that the lightning and hail have not destroyed my life, that no accident has befallen me, whereby an arm or other limb might have been broken. For these things would I now and at all times praise and magnify thy name; and pray thee for the sake of the dire sufferings of Jesus Christ, thou would pardon the sins of this day, and defend me during the silent hours of the ensuing night, from my greatest enemy the devil, from sudden alarms of the night, that no calamity overtake me, and no imaginary and visionary evils haunt my mind. Preserve me together with all my connections from dangers by fire and water, from all harm and evils of body and soul. May I repose sweetly and quietly, undisturbed with cares and disquietudes of mind, that in the midnight hours of darkness, with the eyes of faith I may behold the light of thy reconciled countenance beaming upon me. For thou art a clear and true light which en-4 lightens all darkness which may surround us. Thou Lord God art present with me; thou art my rock and my fortress and my deliverer, my God, my strength, in whom I will trust, my buckler, and the hour of my salvation and my high tower. [Ps. 18, 3.] Lord my God, to thee I stretch forth my hands in the night; come thou unto me as the latter rains which moisten the earth. Tarry with us Lord, for the day is far spent, the night is at hand, and there is none to preserve us amidst the hours of darkness than thou alone our God-Hasten to my relief, and keep me safe this night, that my soul may not sleep the sleep of sin, and that my body may not see destruction. Make me to wake in due season; and to hear the voice of joy and gladness, for thy word and statutes are my delight, and the consolation of my soul; may not a message of sorrow salute mine ears in the morning. remove

ALMIGHTY and Most Merciful God, as it becomes all the creatures of thy hand to praise thee continually; as also the feathery tribe in the air warble their songs of praise unto thee their Creator; so also would I call upon my soul with all its powers to magnify thy glorious name, that during the past night and all the days of my life, thy preserving care and goodness have been experienced by thy servant unto this hour, that thou hast made me to wake from sleep this morning, and in health and perfect safety to see the light of another day-Through the healthful resurrection of Jesus Christ from

For Saturday Evening.

PRAISED be the Lord Most High, the Eternal God-adored be his infinite goodness and mercy, venerated his eternal Wisdom and Truth, for he hath shown kindness unto his servant-May that mercy which has ushered in this day and continued through its hours, be extended unto me in the darkness of the night which now lowers over us-Let my refuge be unto the Lord that I may fear no evil; keep me Lord as the apple of thine eye, suffer me to rest in safety under the shadow of thy wings; Lord thou art my God and my heritage, my salvation is in thy hands; deliver me from fear by night and from sudden alarms in darkness ; be merciful unto me, O Lord, be merciful unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee, yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge; in the day of trouble I seek the Lord, I stretch out my hand towards thee in the evening and cease not to call upon thee, for my soul hath no other consolation: and there is no God nor deliverer besides thee. At midnight I awake and delight to think of thee, I dwell upon thy goodness and truth, and praise thee for the statutes of thy righteousness : when trouble cometh upon me I think of God; when my soul is compassed about with sorrow, I look to my Saviour, for he delivers my soul from trouble and rescues me from the snares of death; day and night would I call upon thee to pardon all my transgressions, to heal Ill my backslidings which this day and this week may have been committed against thee - Lord deliver my soul and save me for thy mercy's sake-Thou art slow to anger and abundant in mercy; truth and righteousness encompass thee around :---Thou Lord preservest the upright in heart: when I slip thou liftest me up: when I lie down thou makest me to rise again; therefore will I trust the Lord, and rejoice and be glad continually, for my age shall be clearer than the noon-day, and shall shine forth and shall be as the morning, and I shall rest secure, because the Lord is my hope and defence - I shall lie down and none shall make me afraid. I now commend my soul and body into thy hands, O Lord for thou hast redeem-ed my soul, through Jesus Christ my Lord. Amen.

A DAILY PRAYER.

My Lord and my God, I now live, but I know not how long my life will continue; I am convinced that I must die, but how, where, and when, I know not. Thou Lord alone knowest the hour of my departure; shall this day prove my last or this night my soul be called hence. Thy will O Lord be done, for thou knowest the best times and seasons; according to thy will, through faith in the Lord Jesus my Saviour I shall be enabled to live or to die to thy glory: This one thing 1 pray thee, suffer me not to be taken off suddenly in my sins; Grant unto me a saying knowledge of and a godly sorrow for sins; O convince me here of sin, and let me here mourn and lament my folly when it yet may avail for me, and not only then when tears, cries and sorrows shall be of no avail for ever: May I not at thy judgment be put to shame before angels and archangels, but grant me time for repentance, time to obtain pardon of sin, time to make my peace with God, may I from thy word obtain peace, and rest, and consolation for my soul. O! Most Merciful God and Father, forsake me not, take not away thy Holy Spirit from me: all I am and all I have is known unto thee. O keep me in thy fear and when my hour of departure arrives, grant me consolation, remove the fear of death, and let my passage be easy and blessed. Amen.

PRAYER

For Pardon of Sins.

Most Merciful God, Eternal Father, great are the sins which I have committed against thee, powerful the influence of my example, and innumerable are my transgressions, and every imagination of my heart was only evil continually from my youth. O Lord, who can tell how oft he sins?

PRAYER FOR PARDON OF SINS. 51

-Behold I acknowledge my transgression, and my sin is ever before me : Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight, that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. [Ps. 51, 3. 4.] But for thy mercy's sake, enter not into judgment with thy servant, for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. If thou art nigh to mark iniquity, who can abide it, for no man can answer thee for one out of a thousand transgressions, for all his righteousness is as a polluted garment. Therefore have mercy upon me, and blot out my sins from the book of thy remembrance-wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Have mercy on me, O Lord, according to thy loving-kindness, according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. [Ps. 51, 1.] Remember, O Lord, thy tender mer-

[Ps. 25, 6. 7.] Remember that we are weak and as the wind, which returneth not again : remove thy wrath from us, and let not thy displeasure abide upon us. We acknowledge, Lord, that our works and worthiness can never blot out our sins nor merit thy favor, but the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ the Lamb, without spot or blemish, is a sufficient ransom for our sinsand his blood shed for the remission of sins purifieth and cleanseth the soul.- Upon this only, would I rely, and upon this ground only expect and ask from thee, the pardon of my sins, for his sake then remember no more the transgression of thy people, and impute not unto them thy sins-cleanse thou me also from se-

PRAYER OF A HUSBAND.

Merciful and self-existant God! Thou who thyself hast first instituted the holy estate of matrimony in Paradise to replenish the earth, and after the fall of our first parents, has confirmed the same as an antidote against the lusts of the flesh—as thou in thy providence hast brought me into this estate, I pray thee grant unto me strength from above, that I may in a christian manner continue in this estate, that I may show due honor unto my spouse as unto the weaker vessel, and render unto her

PRAYER OF A WIFE.

O God, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, from whom alone cometh all consolation and blessing, look down with an eye of pity and compassion upon thy handmaiden, a poor weak creature, whom thou hast placed into the state of matrimony, and suffered to become a Mother, O let thy grace be sufficient for me to the performance of every duty laid upon me. May I have thee supremely, and be active and diligent in thy service ; next to thee may I love my husband, and esteem and honor him as it becometh a faithful spouse, and render unto him just and lawful obedience in all things in the Lord. May my adorning be, as the Apostle Peter saith, the hidden man of the heart in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God a great price, as in old times the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselves, being in subjection to their husbands. May my children and servants also be brought up in the fear of God: Grant that they may be obedient, and in all faithfulness walk before thee; may health and strength be continued unto us, bestow food and raiment, and preserve us all from evil and danger: May we so use the things of the world as not to abuse them, and suffer not our concern for this world to be so great that we become forgetful of our immortal souls - In all things may we have respect to thy glory, and seek to walk worthy our high vocation-Enable us to bear our crosses and afflictions with resignation to thy will-and enduring unto

PRAYER OF A CHILD.

Almighty and everlasting God, Thou who hast commanded me in all things that are right, to honor my parents, through whom I have been brought into this world, and who have had great anxiety of mind in watching over my infant days, and great expense in providing for me food and raiment, and giving me an education. I pray thee, for the sake of the obedience of thy dear son my Saviour Jesus Christ, enable me to love and esteem my father and mother, and to manifest my regard for them, by a ready compliance with all their commands. May I never bring shame to their house, or cause sorrow to rise in their hearts: in the decline of their life, may I be unto them a comfort, in need a support, and when nature fails, and strength and reason

Preserve me from sin and sinful companions, so that my parents may not have cause to mourn and sigh on my account, or complain that I approach them with an angry look, with sadness, in an unfriendly manner, with disobedience or stubbornness-and if in these things I have at any time failed and come short of my duty, grant me to learn and acknowledge my sin; and induce me to seek pardon from them, and ask forgiveness for my sin, through Jesus Christ, whom thou Lord hast set before me as a model of obedience to parents - May his example be ever before me, and like unto him, may I increase in wisdom and favor with God and all men.-

PRAYER FOR YOUTH.

Being-Thou delightest in a pure heart, and a godly life is thy pleasure - I pray thee, create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me, [Ps. 51, 10.] that I may serve thee in true faith, with godly fear and sincere obedience, and love thee with all my heart: Preserve me from all evil desires, from the lusts of the flesh, from uncleanness and lasciviousness-Suffer not strange persons, nor an easy address and beautiful features to deceive me, and intice me to voluptuousness and uncleanness-Subdue every inordinate desire, quench every sinful passion, that I lust not after impure and unhallowed enjoyment. Keep me from lightminded and sinful company, lest I be led to the haunts of vice and the abodes of debauchery, lest I be accustomed to a life of idleness, which brings in its train a host of evils. consistent with the christian character, O Lord, do thou keep far from me. Preserve me from pride, from anger, from deceit, which are the causes of so much evil-Deliver me from every temptation to lust and uncleanliness - may I spurn every thing which might hold out an inducement to me-and though tempted and entreated to gratify corrupt passions, like Joseph, may I scorn thus to sin, saying, "how can I do so great an evil, and sin against my God." May I never yield my members, servants, to uncleanness, but unto righteousness - And when in the course of thy providence, 1 shall be permitted to enter into the state of matrimony, may it not be from unhallowed motives, but from a pure desire, and in obedience to thy command; and thus may I be preserved from all voluptuous and unlawful desire : Grant unto me a faithful and pious partner, with whom I may lead

PRAYER OF A SERVANT.

Kind and Indulgent Parent, through the sufferings and death of thy dear Son Jesus Christ, thou hast delivered me from spiritual bondage, from the power of sin, and the dominion of darkness, and hast set me free from the tyranny of satan, to live and reign with thee for ever and ever—I pray thee to grant me grace, that in the state of servitude (into which I have been placed by thy providence,) I may be enabled to do justice to those, in whose service I am readily and willingly to subject myself unto them, and heartily to render prompt obedience to all their just commands - Grant that I may rest contented in the sphere in which thou hast placed me, and not murmer and repine against thine appointments. Suffer me not to envy the situation of my superiors, but honor and esteem them, as it is becoming a person in my situation. But above all, O Lord, grant that in true sincerity and filial fear, I may serve thee -love thee above all things - and place all my dependance and hope upon thee :- May thy commandments ever be before me, and thy law the rule of my walk and conversation-with all patience and submission teach me to bear the reproaches and corrections of my superiors, and render obedience to all commands which are not contrary to thy will, with fear and trembling, in singleness of heart as unto Christ, not with eye-service as men-pleasers, but as the servants of Christ doing the will of God from the heart, with good will doing service as to the Lord and not to men. May I remain faithful in every thing intrusted to my care; may nothing be lost, wasted or injured through my neglect; may no temptations lead me to dishonesty, nor favorable opportunities induce me to steal. Preserve my health, continue and increase my strength of body, and endue me plenteously with wisdom and prudence, that I may so conduct the concerns of my employers, that it may be pleasing in their sight, and that they can depend upon me in all instances and at all times; may all I do and all my endeavors, being done in obedience to thy will, redound to thy honor and glory, and may the trials and difficulties to which I am subjected, prove blessings to my soul — and prove a trial of my patience and faith — and above all, teach me to look to futurity, that I may obtain a hope through Jesus Christ, of dwelling in light inaccessable and full of glory. Amen.

For a Godly Life.

Dear Lord Jesus Christ, my Saviour! enlighten me this day and at all times from on high, that I may direct my thoughts and steps towards the heavenly Jerusalem, my continual abiding city-and as thou desirest after the salvation of sinners, Oh so may I continually desire after thee-Early may I seek thee, in the morning call upon thee, and continually hear thee, the bread of life, as my companion on my journey. Of Children for an absent Father.

Eternal Son of God, dearest Saviour of all who call upon thee in faith, we thy children, who are baptised into thy blood, with thy spirit, and thus dedicated to thy service, and accepted as thy children, we raise our infant prayer unto thee, and implore thee most sincerely to preserve our dear Parent, whom the duties of his avocation have called afar off from us - O preserve him from every danger, from accident, sickness, murderers, and from sudden death amongst strangers; may he be enabled to accomplish his purposes and effect the object he had in view, with honesty and uprightness; bring him again in health into our midst. Thou didst accompany thy servant Jacob upon his journey with thy holy angels and preserve him; so accompany also our Parent, and all who fear and love thee, and bring them again to their respective families—for thy mercy's sake.—Amen.

For the Sufferings of Christ.

Most heartily would I thank Thee, Lord Jesus, who art both true man and true God, that thou hast redeemed me, a poor miserable and lost sinner, by thy sufferings and death, without any merits or worthiness in me-not indeed with silver and gold, but with thy holy and precious blood — How great were thy sufferings, how deep the anguish of mind; how excruciating the tortures and how painful thy death: O how great, beyond expression great, must have been thy love towards sinners, to induce thee to endure so much to effect their reconciliation with God. It was for my sake that thou wast numbered amongst the transgressors, being made a curse for us; rugged irons pierced thy hands and feet, and in extreme agony vinegar was made thy drink; under inconceivable agonies didst thou give up the ghost, that our debt might be paid, and that we through thy stripes might be healed. "I exhort therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions and giving of thanks, be made for all men." 1 Tim. 2, 1.

"Prayer is the raising of the soul unto God, and consists of supplication, prayer, intercession, and giving of thanks, all to the glory of God,"

"Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation, hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King and my God : for unto thee will I pray." Ps. 5, 1.

1. Supplication for deliverance from Evil.

1. LORD how are they increased that trouble me? many there are that rise up against me; look upon mine affliction and my pain, and have mercy on me: O Lord, deliver me, redeem me, preserve me, keep me, defend me, protect and help me out of all my troubles, now, henceforth, and evermore.

2. Number me not, O heavenly Father, among the vessels of wrath, among the children of disobedience, among the multitude of the ungodly, nor among the number of those who shall perish.

3. O my dear Jesus, let not thy endeavors with me, a poor sinner, be without profit; let not thy sufferings be of no avail—thy blood without efficacy — thy death without power, and thy resurrection without profit to me.

4. But deliver my soul from the cords of sin, from the power of death, from the jaws of hell, from the dominion of satan, and suffer me not to come into condemnation.

5. Leave me not, O thou Holy Spirit of God, but evermore keep thy dwelling in my heart; for without thee, I shall not know, nor understand, nor accomplish any thing of a spiritual nature aright: And if Thou give me not both to will and to do, of thy good pleasure, I shall remain unprofitable.

6. Keep and preserve me, O Lord, (in my views of Religion,) from all heresy and false doctrines — that neither the fallacious reasonings of men deceive me, nor the threatenings of persecutors fill me with terror; nor the world allure, nor appearances blind me, to renounce my faith, to deny my Lord that bought me, or to turn again backward to the world.

7. Grant, that my attachment to Thee may be without hypocrisy; my piety without dissimulation, that my faith be not the work of man, but of God—my attendance to thy house and ordinances be not only out of custom, but out of delight—that my prayers be not without devotion, but breathe the spirit of Jesus—and that my love be sincere and ardent.

8. May I never glide into a state of careless security and perverseness of heart, and sin against the better convictions of my conscience, so as to love and approve of that which is evil and esteem sin a light matter, despise the warnings of God, and boast of my iniquity, and thus die in sin.

9. Therefore, banish all pride, haughtiness, arrogance, and self-conceit from my soul, that I be not elated and puffed up with vanity, considering myself better than others, that I trust not too much to my genius, that I depend not upon my talents, that I consider not myself as only and sufficiently wise, that I abuse not any power or faculty I possess, that I aspire not after honor and riches, that I meddle not as a busy body in other men's matter, but attend to my duties uprightly.

10. Enable me to banish from my mind, all sinful thoughts, all unchaste desires and all sinful lusts, that I abstain from idle and vain conversations, and beware of all sinful undertakings.

11. Let cursing and swearing, pilfering and stealing, lying and deceit, calumny and backbiting, hypocrisy and dissimulation, adultery and fornication, and every thing which is contrary to thy holy will; the lust of the flesh, the lusts of eye, and the pride of the heart, a despising of thy word, unrighteousness, covetousness, hatred, envy, malice, &c. let all these things be kept far from me.

12. Suffer me not, during the whole of my life, to become polluted in mind, vain in thought, unchaste in words, mean in deportment, scandalous in my walk, haughty in conduct, proud in heart, secure in prosperity, hardened in bliss, nor wasteful of that which God has lent.

13. Grant that I may not unnecessarily meddle myself with other people's business, nor judge my neighbors uncharitably, nor accuse the innocent, nor grieve the people of God, nor despise the poor, nor take advantage of the weak, nor deride those, who have fallen into sin, nor mock at those who are in distress, nor injure or grieve any one, either in word or deed.

14. May I be strengthened to subdue my corrupt inclinations, passions, and desires, to ovescome the temptations of the devil, and not be led astray nor deceived by men.

15. And if it should happen that I, through weakness or inconsiderateness, should err or even knowingly neglect that which is good and follow that which is evil, O Lord, I pray thee, deal not with thy servant according to thy strictest justice; when I err rebuke me not in thine anger; when I sin chastise me not in thy hot displeasure ; but spare, O spare me, according to the greatness of thy mercy.

16. Preserve me, O Lord, and all I possess, from every thing which could be injurious to me-My character and reputation from shame; my property from thieves ; my house from the ravages of fire; my possessions from the lightning's blast; my crops from the destructive hail; my body from fell disease; my mind from unnecessary cares; my eyes from beholding vanity and abomination ; my ears from hearing cursings, slanderings, and backbiting; my family circle from distress and shame; and my life from sudden death.

17. Cut me not off in the midst of my days, nor deprive me of my friends ere their time is at hand let me not become a prey to sickness, debility, poverty and shame, nor become as a lonely out-cast from men, or become distressed and afflicted in any other manner, more than thou, O Lord, seest best for me.

18. O suffer me not to become dependant upon the charities of others, to eat the bread of idleness—to be forced to beg support from those, who hate me, and to ask aid and assistance from uncharitable and unfeeling men.

19. But if thou, O Father, hast seen fit in thy kind Providence, to bring affliction upon me, enable me, with resignation to thy will, to bear my cross, and sanctify, O Lord, the afflictions which thou dost send to my everlasting welfare—may I never murmur nor repine at thy dealings nor despair when my trials increase, but may thy grace ever be sufficient for me, in my time of need.

20. Give me not over to a hardness of heart and inconsiderateness of mind, but preserve me in thy fear and direct my reflections, that I may not err in my determinations, not become careless in my business, not act inconsiderately in my dealings, but in all things so conduct myself, that I come not to open shame before the world.

21. Defend me against the assaults of all my enemies, and deliver me from the intrigues of my pretended friends— when they calumniate me, sustain my character; when they persecute me, do thou rescue; when they plot evil against me, let it come to nought; when they curse, do thou bless.

22. And when, according to thy will and pleasure, I shall have suffered, and borne calámities enough, O then, dear Lord, deliver me from all evil. Amen.

2. Prayer for the obtaining and preservation of all good.

"Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress: have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer." Ps. 4, 6.

1. ALMIGHTY, Merciful, Kind and Indulgent God and Father, Creator of all things; Fountain of life; Source of happiness; Preserver of all things, and mighty Governor of the universe.

2. Behold I draw nigh at this time to thy throne of grace — as a beggar to one who is possessed of riches, as a child before a parent, as a subject before a Sovereign, as a sinner before a Being of infinite purity.

3. In obedience to thy command, I come in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and pray for those things for which thou desirest to be asked and entreated.

4. Bestow now, O Lord, what I pray thee, send those things which I need, grant what is good and advan tageous for me, and regulate my affairs according to thy good will and pleasure—and be now and evermore, "my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my strength, in whom I will trust, my buckler, and the hour of my salvation, and my high tower."

5. O heavenly Father, be Thou my God, let thy wisdom direct, thy grace preserve, thy love rejoice, thy mercy console, thy justice defend, thy truth lead, and thy redeeming mercy finally save me, through Jesus Christ my Saviour.

6. O God, the Son Jesus Christ, be Thou my Saviour—may thy coming into the world be my rejoicing, thy doctrine afford me instruction, thy life be my example, thy suffering my redemption, thy humility my pattern, thy shame my glory, thy obedience my righteousness, thy death my life, thy resurrection my comfort, thy ascension my hope, and thy judgment my introduction to heaven.

7. O God the Holy Ghost be my comforter; convert me, for I am a sinful being — make me alive, for I am dead — awaken me, for I am asleep—wash me, for I am unclean, and prepare me for an eternal life of blessedness.

8. Enlighten my understanding, sanctify my will, subdue my corrupt passions, and strengthen me, for 1 am weak.

9. Dwell in me and abide with me, Thou blessed trinity — Let thy law daily issue its threatenings, and thy gospel as often hold forth its consolations, direct me by thy word.

10. May I learn to know my sins, and to feel sensible of the punishment due, on account of them—May I tremble at the thought of hell mourn with a godly sorrow on account of my transgressions—believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, trust in his merits, amend my life, and be saved.

11. Bless me, O Lord, with all those graces which are well pleasing in thy sight: may I be fervent in spirit, rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, instant in prayer, warmed with love, ready in obedience, filial in fear, and continually seek those things which are above.

12. Implant in my heart a constant delight in thy will — when I read thy blessed volume, enlighten me; when I would go to thy house, prepare my heart — when I hear a sermon, edify me — when I pray, hear me—when I sing, raise my soul —when I confess to thee, pardon my sins—and when I appear at thy holy table, may I be a worthy guest.

13. Enable me to be chaste in thought, true in words, sensible in discourse, faithful in deed, modest in deportment, moderate in joy, considerate in anger, upright in actions, industrious in business, fortunate in undertakings, and consciencious in all things.

14. Give me a heart to know the things of the spirit, that I may prove myself, and at all times know every duty, and act accordingly — May I be open to instruction, give ear to wisdom, and be enabled to discern good from evil, and thus proving all things, hold fast that which is good.

15. Above all things, may I abound in love, and be found doing justly and loving righteousness, that I may act towards my fellow-men as thou requirest, give to each his due, assist him in the preservation of his own, and rejoice with him in his prosperity.

16. Incline my heart to be merciful, and let my hands be liberal towards the needy — May 1 be the friend of those that are friendless; counsel those who err; instruct the ignorant; speak in behalf of those who cannot speak for themselves; relieve the poor, strengthen the weak, revive those who are famishing, raise those who have fallen, assist the destitute, comfort the comfortless, and do good to all men.

17. Dispose me ever to be willing to be reconciled to those who have injured me, to love my enemies, to bless those who curse me, to do good to those that hate me, to pray for those that despitefully use me, and to spare those who insult and attack me.

18. Yes, may I feed them when they are hungry, give them to drink when they are thirsty, and thus requite good for evil.

19. In general, teach me to conduct myself towards all men, as it becometh a christian — with respect to my pastor, with obedience to all in authority, with kind feelings towards my neighbors, humble before the great, unassuming before the poor, thankful towards my benefactor, upright towards my friends, rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep, that my love may prove itself to be genuine, and I may live in peace and harmony with all men.

20. And as this world is full of temptations, and our path beset with difficulties, I pray thee conduct my ways, and direct me in the society of men that I may as much as possible avoid the wicked, and associate myself with the pious and imitate their example, warn the wicked, and under every circumstance of life conduct myself as a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ.

21. Then, O Heavenly Parent, bestow upon me, as much of this world's prosperity, as thou seest will be best for me, and evermore grant me a good understanding, a pure conscience, and a healthful body.

22. Continue unto me, what thou hast already bestowed, let my memory be retentive, my senses quick, my strength increasing, the faculties of my soul be daily developing, and my life be spared as long as thou shalt see most advantageous for me.

23. When I partake of thy mercies, let it be with thanksgiving when I lay me down to sleep, do thou watch over me: when I awake, excite my soul to praise: when I go abroad, conduct me: when I return, preserve me in safety: when I return, preserve me in safety: when I enter upon a journey, accompany me: in my family circle, bless me: in my declining age be Thou my stay, and let the guard of thy holy angels ever surround and defend me.

24. Place me in such a situation, which Thou knowest will best promote my spiritual welfare, in due time humble, and in a convenient season, exalt me; as much honor and respect as thou knowest I will be enabled to bear without pride, grant me, and conduct and regulate my doings.

25. Strengthen me to attend to my daily employment; grant an inclination to and pleasure in my calling, and bestow every necessary qualification both of body and mind, and let me live in peace and quietness with all men.

26. And if, in thy providence, Thou shouldest grant me a partner in life, may we live together in peace all our days, to thine own honor and glory.

27. In every other respect, command thy blessing to rest upon me may my undertakings and business be crowned with success, that I may always have sufficient, to feed, clothe, and support myself and family — in the day of sickness and distress not be in want, and always be able to assist the needy, to relieve the poor, and to do something for the promotion of thine honor and glory.

28. And, as no one liveth to himself, but is necessarily connected with those amongst whom he lives, may I ever by my conduct merit the good will and affection of my fellowbeings, so that I may never want friends in need, to assist, council and console me, but that in every need, in every distress and affliction, they may be nigh, and do every thing in their power to lighten my affliction and to render more supportable my distress.

29. If troubles and crosses come, as they necessarily will in this troublesome world, grant me patience in affliction, humility when the world despises me, calmness and mildness towards those who insult me, and contentment in all circumstances of life.

30. When I am forsaken of men, do Thou stand by me; when I am troubled, set my mind at rest; when I am in distress, console me; when I am weak, strengthen me; when my spirit droops, revive me; and when any thing has taken place which now cannot be altered, may I banish all unnecessary and unprofitable cares from my mind.

31. And lastly, when I am sick, be my Physician; when I am in pain, give me ease; when I use the appointed means, sanctify them to my recovery, if it is best for me; and if thou hast determined otherwise, and it shall be a sickness unto death, may I refain my senses to the last, and have a happy exit out of this troublesome world, to enter upon joys above.

3. Intercession for all men.

"Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, who am but dust and ashes." Jer. 18, 27.

1. O GOD, who in days past hast been merciful towards our dear country, hear now the voice of my supplication, and let every christian and all my fellow-men, be remembered in my prayer.

2. Preserve, defend, govern and guide, the little flock of thy church, on earth — let no false doctrines be declared from our pulpits—no erroneous principles instilled into the minds of the young in our schools preserve our congregations from strife, our assembling together from pride and self-conceit, and let not persecution follow and destroy us.

3. Stop the course of the enemy of our faith, let all the councils of the ungodly against us come to nought, destroy all heresy, and let the fallacious doctrines of men be no more regarded, that the honor and glory of thy name, may be spread more and more throughout the world.

1. Enlighten the ignorant, convert the wicked, direct the erring, reclaim the wandering, spare the sinner, pardon the penitent, and make wise the trifler.

5. Grant that the ministers of the everlasting gospel, may be apt to teach, preaching the word, be instant in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, console, direct, exhort, with all long-suffering and doctrine, being themselves a pattern of holiness and an example to the flock in all things.

6. Bless too their ministrations amongst us, prosper thou the work of their hands; yea, the work of their hands prosper thou it — May thy word, being attentively and prayerfully heard and mixed with faith by those who hear it, prove itself powerful and efficacious upon the hearts of sinners and saints, may it be unto all the power and wisdom of God to salvation.

7. Bless also the Rulers which in thy Providence have been placed over us—the President of these united states—the Governor of this state, and all in authority; indue them with the piety of a David, the wisdom of a Solomon, the resolution of a Sampson; may they be men fearing God, loving righteousness and doing justly, and under their administration, may the interests and prosperity of our country be advanced.

8. Let the welfare of our common country be near their heart — may they be interested in the prosperity of Zion, seek to promote the happiness of their subjects, live on friendly terms with all nations, and ever be victorious against their enemies, and the enemies of thy kingdom.

9. Implant a love of peace into the hearts of kings, and governors, and rulers; let the nobles of the earth inquire after the ways of God —let all officers possess sound judgment—all judges judge in righteousness, and all rulers rule in mercy.

10. That amongst us evil doers, may be punished, the industrious protected, vice and wickedness be banished, useful institutions firmly established, and each be found faithful in his lawful calling.

11. Therefore, dispose the hearts of all subjects to respect their rulers, to be attached to their government, to honor their laws, and be willing to loose their all, even their life, rather than to sin against God.

12. Yes, Lord, be favorably disposed towards our whole country increase our population—prosper our commerce—preserve our manufactories — and bless the labors of the honest countrymen — and add thy blessing to all our national concerns.

13. Bless thy church universal, let the borders of the redeemer's kingdom be enlarged, let the multitude of converts be increased, and let the prayers and endeavors of thy people be crowned with success.

14. Bless also individual families, grant that all parents may live together in love, let them have the pleasure of seeing their children growing up in the fear of the Lord, and become useful members of society here, and be prepared for an admission into the society of the saints above.

15. Teach children to honor, respect, fear, love and obey their parents, as in the Lord; knowing that the Lord sayeth to them, "Honor thy Father and Mother, that thy days may be long in the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

16. Let the relation existing between servants and masters be such as to merit thy approbation; "may servants be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again, not purloining, but showing all good, fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things; may masters, in meekness instruct and in patience bear their servants, rendering them their just due for their labor.

17. In short, we would commit to Thee the concerns of all men; grant to each what thou seest they may stand in need of —clothe the naked, feed the hungry, refresh the weary, comfort the distressed, give the weary and heavy laden rest, visit the rich, guide the young, support the aged, be thou the widow's God, and the Father of the fatherless — and may all sorts and conditions of men, in all the various circumstances of life, experience thy care and thy kind regard for their welfare.

18. But especially would I commit to thy care and keeping, my family, my friends, neighbors and acquaintance, preserve them from all evil, lead them in all truth, reward my benefactors, be thou the stay of my friends, bless my enemies, forgive my persecutors, convert my calumniators, enlighten my despisers, and at last bring us all together, into thy glorious and immediate presence.— 4. Giving of thanks for all men.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name.-

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." Ps. 103, 1. 2.

1. O THOU Eternal, Powerful, and Almighty God! how unsearchable is thy wisdom, how unlimited thy goodness, how unbounded thy love, how long-suffering thy patience, how righteous thy justice, and how incomprehensible thy favors bestowed upon me.

2. Lord, I feel sensible of my nothingness and of thy greatness, of my sinfulness and thy holiness, of my unworthiness and of thy majesty; shame belongeth unto me, but unto thee honor and glory.

3. I am as nothing before thee, thou art all in all—I am sinful, but thou art holy—I have been rebellious, but thou wast slow to anger; I have been disobedient, but thou wast abundant in mercy—I am not worthy of thy regard, but thou in mercy didst behold me; Lord, I am not worthy of the least of the mercies which thou hast bestowed upon me.

4. Wonderful are thy works, terrible thy threatenings, mighty thy punishments—for our good thy chastisement — sure thy promises, faithful thy words, and thy love is above all—it is higher than the heavens, more extensive than the earth, and deeper than the sea.

5. I am the creature of thy hand, and thou art my creator; I am thy child, and thou art my Father; I am thy servant, thou my Lord; I am thy debtor, thou my Benefactor, for of thee and from thee are all things that I am and possess.

6. Therefore would I praise thee, O God, my heavenly Father, that thou hast created me and fashioned me after thine own image, and hast created me an intelligent and rational Being, and permitted me to be born in a land of gospel light and privileges, in the bosom of thy church. 7. We would especially praise Thee, that when there was no arm to save and no eye to pity, thou didst look down upon a world lying in iniquity, didst send thy Son as our Saviour, who has opened a new and living way to thee, our heavenly Father, and by his sufferings and death made a complete atonement for the sins of the world.

8. Thou art worthy to be adored, dearest Saviour, that thou hast become our Brother, our Mediator, our Deliverer, our Redeemer, our Saviour, and our Emanuel.

9. Receive our heartfelt expressions of gratitude and praise, most holy, kind and merciful Saviour, for thy loving kindness and faithfulness, that thou didst come into the world, assume our nature, that thou didst bear reproach and shame for us, that thou didst die the just for the unjust, that we might be brought near to God; that thou didst arise from the dead and ascend into heaven, thus assuring us that our bodies too shall rise, and that thy sincere followers now can hope to have at last a glorious ascension to thee our glorified Saviour.

10. How cheering are the doctrines of thy gospel, how consoling thy promises, how valuable thy redemption, how efficacious thy sufferings, how powerful thy blood.

11. Therefore, would my soul ever praise thy holy name, that thou hast accomplished the design of the Father, that thou hast reconciled me to God, redeemed me from hell, accepted me in baptism, and hast refreshed and strengthened me at thy holy table, with the bread of life and water of salvation.

12. And, O God, Thou Holy. Spirit — Thou comforter in every time of sorrow, upon thee would I call, to thee would I pray, and to thee offer up praise and thanksgiving. 13. From thee cometh every spiritual good—from thee all that I think, speak and do—from thee I have obtained both to will and to do, according to thy good pleasure, thou alone canst fit and prepare me for eternal life.

14. Thou callest me, before I think of performing, thou waitest until I do perform, thou assistest that I may perform, and thou strengthenest me that I can perform.

15. Precious are thy gifts, rich thy consolation, blessed thy communion with our souls, and cheering to the heart thy voice of love.

16. Therefore would I now praise thee, and throughout the endless ages of eternity give thanks unto thee, that thou hast powerfully and successfully operated upon my heart, and awakened me to a sense of duty, called me by thy Holy word, accepted me through Baptism, enlightened my understanding, sanctified my soul, renewed my perverted faculties, and thus made me a renewed creature in Christ Jesus, and an heir of eternal glory.

17. O thou holy and blessed Trinity, we would all unite in the praise of thy matchless love, and thank thee for all that thou hast done us, both according to body and soul—that thy hand has been extended over thy church, that no heresy nor false doctrines have crept in amongst us; that our country is still enjoying peace and prosperity, and that in all things we can rejoice in a perfect and allover-ruling Providence.

18. Thou hast not only preserved us in peace with other nations, but also from civil commotions and discord within our own borders, from famine, disease and pestilence, for all which we feel bound to praise thy holy name.

19. It is of thy mercy that we are not yet consumed. for thou makest thy sun to arise over us, and thy early and latter rains to descend that the earth may yield her increase, and we may day by day have our daily bread.

20. Now, O Lord, how much are we indebted to thee; from our infancy unto this day, hast thou watched over us, with a father's care; led us with parental kindness, and most liberally supplied all our wants, through many difficulties brought us, from much evil preserved us, out of much affliction delivered us, and in many sorrows raised and comforted our souls.

21. When sickness has preyed upon my system, thou hast again restored me to health; when I have erred, thou hast directed me aright again; when I have sinned thou hast borne me with compassion; when I felt sorry for my sins, thou hast pardoned; when I have prayed thou hast heard me; when I have undertaken any thing in a good cause, though others have endeavored to hinder me, yet hast thou strengthened me to persevere.

22. In my infancy, hast thou already provided for me; in my youth, led mc, and in my declining years, I trust thou wilt not forsake me.

23. Through thy assistance, have I obtained many a friend and patron in the world, (many a friend and counselor in a foreign land,) and at all times and every where had my support and maintance.

24. Therefore, O Lord, assist me to praise and magnify thy holy name, for all which thou hast done to me; for the time which thou hast lent me, the days and nights which thou hast granted, the present hour to which thou hast brought me, for the quiet sleep which thou hast permitted me to enjoy during the past night, for health, friends, wealth, prosperity, and for every other enjoyment. 25. I would praise thee for the situation in life into which thou hast placed me, for the reputation which thou hast made me to possess among men, for the prosperity which thou hast poured out upon me, for the faithful partner in life who thou hast led to me, for the children thou hast sent, and in short for every blessing and enjoyment, would the grateful feelings of my soul ascend to Thee.

26. O Lord our God, how many are there in the world, who now are poorer, more distressed, more miserable, more unhappy, than I am?

27. Therefore would I bring thee praise and glory, that thou hast not only bestowed upon me and others, so much undeserved good, but that thou hast also made me sensible of and thankful for it.

28. My soul, with all her faculties and power, and all that is within me, shall praise my God.

29. Let all the angels praise thee, 16

let all the saints praise thee—let the heathen praise thee— let the people praise thee: O God, let all the people praise thee.

30. Glory to God the Father, who has created me, to God the Son who has redeemed me, and to God the Holy Ghost, who has sanctified me—Glory to the ever blessed and holy Trinity, now, henceforth, and forever.—Amen.

The Successful Resolve. Esth. iv, 16.

COME, humble sinner, in whose breast A thousand thoughts revolve, Come, with your guilt and fear opprest, And make this last resolve :

- "I'll go to Jesus, though my sin Hath like a mountain rose;
- I know his courts, I'll enter in, Whatever may oppose :
- " Prostrate I'll lie before his throne, And there my guilt confess;
- I'll tell him I'm a wretch undone, Without his sovereign grace :
- "Perhaps he will admit my plea, Perhaps will hear my prayer; But if I perish I will pray, And only perish there.
- "I can but perish if I go, I am resolv'd to try; For if I stay away, I know I must forever die."

But if I die with mercy sought, When I the King have tried, This were to die (delightful thought!) As sinner never died.

Seeking Pardon. Ps. xxxii, 8.

LORD, at thy feet I prostrate fall, Oppress'd with fears to thee I call : Reveal thy pard'ning love to me, And set my captive spirit free.

Hast thou not said, "Seek ye my face ;" The invitation I embrace; I'll seek thy face; thy Spirit give! O let me see thy face, and live.

I'll wait, perhaps my Lord will come; If I turn back, hell is my doom; And begging in his way, I'll lie Till the dear Saviour passes by.

I'll seek his face with cries and tears, With secret sighs and fervent pray'rs; And if not heard, I'll waiting sit, And perish at my Saviour's feet.

But can'st thou, Lord, see all my pain, And bid me seek thy face in vain? No! Jesus will not, can't deceive, The soul that seeks his face shall live

3.-P. M.

Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. Mark x, 47.

JESUS! full of all compassion, Hear thy humble suppliant's cry; Let me know thy great salvation; See! I languish, faint, and die.

Guilty, but with heart relenting, Overwhelm'd with helpless grief, Prostrate at thy feet repenting, Send, O send me quick relief!

Whither should a wretch be flying, But to him who comfort gives ? Whither, from the dread of flying, But to him who ever lives ?

While I view thee, wounded, grieving, Breathless on the cursed tree, Fain I'd feel my heart believing That thou suffer'dst thus for me.

Without thee, the world possessing, I should be a wretch undone; Search thro' heaven; the land of blessing, Seeking good, and finding none.

Hear, then, blessed Saviour, hear me! My soul cleaveth to the dust; Send the Comforter to cheer me; Lo! in thee I put my trust.

Sav'd—the deed shall spread new glory Through the shining realms above! Angels sing the pleasing story, All enraptur'd with thy love!

4.-C. M.

Imploring Mercy. Luke xviii. 13.

LORD! at thy feet in dust I lie, And knock at mercy's door; With humble heart and weeping eye, Thy favour I implore.

- On me, O Lord, do thou display Thy rich, forgiving love;
- O take my henious guilt away, This heavy load remove.
- Without thy grace I sink opprest Down to the gates of hell;
- O give my troubled spirit rest, And all my fears dispel.
- 'Tis mercy, mercy, I improre, O may thy bowels move :
 Thy grace is an exhaustless store, And thou thyself art love.
- Should I at last in heaven appear, To join thy saints above; ('ll shout that mercy brought me there, And sing thy bleeding love.

Bethesda's Pool. John ii. 4.

BESIDE the gospel pool, Appointed for the poor, From year to year my helpless soul Has waited for a cure.

How often have I seen The healing waters move; And others round me stepping in, There efficacy prove!

But my complaints remain; I feel the very same; As full of guilt, and fear, and pain, As when at first I came.

O, would the Lord appear My malady to heal ; He knows how long I've languish'd here, And what distress I feel.

[How often have I thought, Why should I longer lie? Surely the mercy I have sought Is not for such as I;

But whither can I go? There is no other pool Where streams of sov'reign virtue flow To make a sinner whole.]

Here, then, from day to day, I'll wait, and hope and try; Can Jesus hear a sinner pray, Yet suffer him to die?

No-he is full of grace ; He never will permit A soul, that fain would see his face, To perish at his feet.

6.-S. M.

God the preserver of his people.

TO God the only wise, Our Saviour and our King, Let all the saints below the skies Their humble praises bring.

'Tis his almighty love, His council and his care, Preserves us safe from sin and death, And ev'ry hurtful snare.

He will present our souls Unblemish'd and complete, Before the glory of his face, With joys divinely great.

Then all his faithful sons Shall meet around the throne, Shall bless the conduct of his grace, And make his wonders known.

To our Redeemer, God, Wisdom and pow'r belongs, Immortal crowns of majesty, And everlasting songs.

7.-C. M.

For a new Nature.

Supreme High-priest, the pilgrim's light, My heart for thee prepare ; Thine image stamp, and deeply write Thy superscription there.

Ah, let my forehead bear the seal, My arm thy badge retain,My heart the inward witness feel That I am born again.

Into the humble mansion come, Set up thy dwelling here : Possess my heart and leave no room For sin to harbour there :

Ah, give me, Lord, the single eye,
Which aims at naught but thee:
I fain would live, and yet not I—
Let Jesus live in me.

O that the penetrating sight And eagle's eye were mine ! Undazzled at the boundless light, Of majesty divine ;

That with the armies of the sky I too may sit and sing, Add, Saviour, to the eagle's eye, The dove's aspiring wing.

8.-L. M.

Humble Trust; or Despair Prevented LORD, didst thou die, but not for me? Am I forbid to trust thy blood? Hast thou not pardons rich and free? And grace, an overwhelming flood? Presumptious thought! to fix the bound : To limit mercy's sov'reign reign;

What other happy souls have found, I'll seek ; nor shall I seek in vain.

I own my guilt; my sins confess; Can men or devils make them more? Of crimes already numberless, Vain the attempt to swell the score.

Were the black list before my sight,While I remember thou hast died,'Twould only urge my speedier flight To seek salvation at thy side.

Low at thy feet I'll cast me down, To thee reveal my guilt and fear; And—if thou spurn me from thy throne, I'll be the first who perish'd there.

9.-C. M.

The pleasures of a pure conscience.

O HAPPY soul that lives on high ! While men lie grov'ling here, His hopes are fix'd above the sky, And faith forbids his fear.

His conscience knows no secret stings ; While grace and joy combine To form a life, whose holy springs Are hidden and divine.

He waits in secret on his God; His God in secret sees. Let earth be all in arms abroad, He dwells in heavenly peace.

His pleasures rise from things unseen, Beyond this world and time, Where neither eyes nor ears have been, Nor thoughts of mortals climb.

He looks to heaven's eternal hill, To meet that glorious bay, When Christ his promise shall fulfill, And call his soul away.

10.-C. M.

Christ Precious. 1 Pet. ii. 7.

HOW sweet the name of JESUS sounds In a believer's ear!

It sooths his sorrows, heals his wounds, And drives away his fear.

It makes the wounded spirit whole, And calms the troubled breast; 'Tis manna to the hungry soul, And to the weary, rest.

By him my pray'rs acceptance gain, Although with sin defil'd; Satan accuses me in vain, And I am own'd a child.

Weak is the effort of my heart, And cold my warmest thought; But when I see thee as thou art, I'll praise thee as I ought.

Till then I would thy love proclaim, With every fleeting breath ; And may the music of thy name Refresh my soul in death.

11.--P. M.

Sitting at Jesus' feet. SWEET the moments, rich in blessing, Which before the cross I spend ; Life, and health, and peace possessing, From the sinner's dying friend :

Love and grief my heart dividing, With my tears his feet I'll bathe ;

133

Constant still in faith abiding, Life deriving from his death.

Truly blessed is this station— Low before his cross I'll lie; While I see divine compassion Floating in his languid eye;

Here I'll sit—forever viewing Mercy streaming in his blood : Precious drops, my soul bedewing, Plead and claim my peace with God.

12.-L. M.

Hidings of God's face.

HAPPY the hours, the golden days, When I could call my Jesus mine, And sit, and view his smiling face, And melt in pleasures all divine.

But now he's gone, (O mighty wo!) Gone from my soul and hides his love! I hate the sins that griev'd him so, The sins that forc'd him to remove!

Yet let my hope look through my tears, And spy afar his rolling throne, His chariot through the cleaving spheres Shall bring the bright Beloved down.

Swift as a roe flies o'er the hills, My soul springs out to meet him high:

Then shall the conqu'ror turn his wheels And climb the mansion of the sky.

13.-L. M.

The morning emblematic of eternal day

IN sleep's serene oblivion laid, I safely pass'd the silent night : Again I see the breaking shade, Again behold the morning light.

New-born, I bless the waking hour, Once more, with awe, rejoice to be: My conscious soul resumes her pow'r, And springs, my guardian God ! to thee.

O guide me through the various maze My doubtful feet are doom'd to tread; And spread thy shield's protecting blaze Where dangers press around my head.

A deeper shade shall soon impend ; A deeper sleep my eyes oppress : Yet then thy strength shall still defend, Thy goodness still delight to bless.

That deeper shade shall break away; That deeper sleep shall leave my eyes: Thy light shall give eternal day; Thy love the raptures of the skies.

14.-S. M. - Morning.

WE lift our hearts to thee, O Day-star from on high! The sun itself is but thy shade, Yet cheers both earth and sky.

O let thy orient beams The night of sin disperse, The mist of error and of vice, Which shade the universe!

How beautious nature now! How dark and sad before! With joy we view the pleasing change, And nature's God adore.

O may no gloomy crime Pollute the rising day; May Jesus' blood, like evening dew, Wash all our stains away.

May we this life improve, To mourn for errors past: And live this short revolving day, As if it were our last.

To God, the Father, Son, And Spirit, one in three, Be glory, as it was, is now, And shall for ever be.

HYMNS. 15.—L. M. The Lord's Day.

ANOTHER six day's work is done, Another sabbath is begun : Return, my soul, enjoy thy rest, Improve the day thy God has blest.

Come, bless the Lord, whose love assigns So sweet a rest to wearied minds; Provides an antepast of heav'n, And gives this day the food of sev'n.

O that our thoughts and thanks may rise, As grateful incense, to the skies; And draw from heav'n that sweet repose, Which none, but he who feels it, knows.

With joy, great God! thy works we view In various scenes both old and new; With praise we think on mercies past, With hope we future pleasures taste.

In holy duties let the day, In holy pleasures pass away: How sweet, a sabbath thus to spend, In hope of one that ne'er shall end.

16.-C. M.

Sabbath Morning. Ps. cxviii. 24. ON this sweet morn my Lord arose, Triumphant o'er the grave !

He dies to vanquish all my foes, And lives again to save.

This is the day for holy rest, Yet clouds will gather soon, Except my Lord become my guest, And put my harp in tune.

No heavenly fire my heart can raise, Without the Spirit's aid ;

His breath must kindle pray'r and praise, Or I am cold and dead.

On all the flocks thy Spirit pour, And saving health convey; A sweet, refreshing Sunday show'r Will make them sing and pray.

Direct thy shepherds how to feed The flocks of thy own choice; Give savour to the heavenly bread, And bid the folds rejoice.

17.—S. M.—Evening. THE day is past and gone, The evening shades appear, Oh, may I ever keep in mind, The night of death draws near. I lay my garments by, Upon my bed to rest,

So death will soon remove me hence, And leave my soul undrest.

Lord, keep me safe this night, Secure from all my fears ;

May angels guard me while I sleep, Till morning light appears.

And when I early rise, To view th' unwearied sun, May I set out to win the prize, And after glory run :

That when my days are past, And I from time remove, Lord, I may in thy bosom rest, The bosom of thy love.

18.-C. M.

Evening Hymn.

NOW, from the altar of our hearts Let incense flames arise; Assist us, Lord, to offer up Our evening sacrifice.

Awake, our love, awake, our joy; Awake our hearts and tongue : Sleep not when mercies loudly call, Break forth into a song.

Minutes and mercies multiply'd, Have made up all this day; Minutes came quick, but mercies were More fleet and free than they.

New times, new favours, and new joys, Do a new song require;

Till we shall praise thee as we would, Accept our hearts' desire.

Lord of our time, whose hand hath set New time upon our score ; Thee may we praise for all our time, When time shall be no more.

19.-C. M.

Lord's Day Evening.

WHEN, O dear Jesus, when shall I Behold thee all serene; Blest in perpetual sabbath-day, Without a veil between !

Assist me, while I wander here, Amidst a world of cares; Incline my heart to pray with love, And then accept my prayers.

Release my soul from ev'ry chain, No more hell's captive led; And pardon a repenting child, For whom the Saviour bled.

Spare me, my God, O spare the soul That gives itself to thee ; Take all that I possess below, And give thyself to me.

Thy Spirit, O my Father, give, To be my guide and friend, To light my path to ceaseless joys, To sabbaths without end.

20.—C. M. An Evening Song.

DREAD Sov'reign, let my evening song Like holy incense rise! Assist the offerings of my tongue To reach the lofty skies.

Through all the dangers of the day, Thy hand was still my guard, And still to drive my wants away Thy mercy stood prepar'd.

Perpetual blessings from above Encompass me around, But oh ! how few returns of love Hath my Creator found.

What have I done for him that died To save my wretched soul! How are my follies multiplied, Fast as my minutes roll!

Lord, with this guilty heart of mine To thy dear cross I flee, And to thy grace my soul resign To be renew'd by thee.

Sprinkled afresh with pardoning blood I lay me down to rest, As in the embraces of my God,

Or on my Saviour's breast.

21.-C. M.

Sick bed Devotion; or, Pleading without repining.

GOD of my life, look gently down, Behold the pains I feel;

But I am dumb before thy throne, Nor dare dispute thy will.

Diseases are thy servants, Lord, They come at thy command; I'll not attempt a murmuring word Against thy chastening hand.

Yet I may plead with humble cries, Remove thy sharp rebukes; My strength consumes, my spirit dies Through thy repeated strokes.

Crush'd as a moth beneath thy hand, We moulder to the dust; Our feeble powers can ne'er withstand, And all our beauty's lost.

I'm but a sojourner below, As all my Fathers were, May I be well prepar'd to go When I the summons hear

But if my life be spar'd awhile Before my last remove, Thy praise shall be my business still, And I'll declare thy love.

22.-C. M.

God our help in trouble.

MY soul, the awful hour will come, Apace it passeth on, To bear this body to the tomb, And thee to scenes unknown. My heart, long lab'ring with its woes, Shall pant and sink away;

And you, my eye-lids, soon shall close On the last glimm'ring ray.

Whence in that hour shall I receive A cordial for my pain, When, if earth's monarchs were my friends, Those friends would weep in vain?

Great king of nature and of grace! To thee my spirit flies, And opens all its deep distress Before thy pitying eyes.

All its desires to thee are known, And ev'ry secret fear;

The meaning of each broken groan Well notic'd by thine ear.

142

O fix me by that mighty pow'r, Which to such love belongs, Where darkness veils the eyes no more, And groans are chang'd to songs.

23.-C. M.

Sickness and recovery.

MY God, thy service well commands The remnant of my days; Why was this fleeting breath renew'd, But to renew thy praise?

Thine arms of everlasting love Did this weak frame sustain; When life was hov'ring o'er the grave, And nature sunk with pain.

Thou, when the pains of death were felt, Didst chase the fears of hell; And teach my pale and quiv'ring lips Thy matchless grace to tell.

Calmly I bow'd my fainting head On thy dear faithful breast; Pleas'd to obey my Father's call To his eternal rest.

Into thy hands, my Saviour God, Did I my soul resign : In firm dependence on that truth, Which made salvation mine.

Back from the borders of the grave, At thy command I come : Nor will I urge a speedier flight, To my celestial home.

24.—C. M. The Lord's Prayer.

OUR Father who in heaven art, All hallow'd be thy name; Thy kingdom come, thy will be done Throughout this earthly frame.

As cheerfully as 'tis with those Who dwell with thee on high, So let thy bounty day by day, Our daily wants supply.

As we forgive our enemies, Thy pardon, Lord, we crave; Into temptation lead us not, But us from evil save.

For kingdom, power and glory all, Belong, O Lord, to thee; Thine from eternity they were, And thine shall ever be.
